

ANDREA GALVAN

Owner/Dance Instructor

Andrea has been a Florida Keys resident since 2004. Her passion and love for dance grew over the years, and it's been her biggest dream to create a space where she can share her love and passion for dance with the future generation of dancers. Andrea started dancing at the age of five at local dance studios here in the Florida Keys, then soon started training in Miami by the time she started high school. She trained at award-winning studios in South Florida, such as Dance Attack Miami with John Culbertson and Cookie Ramos and Showstopper Miami with Susie Garcia. Andrea is trained in numerous dance styles such as ballet, jazz/jazz-funk, contemporary, hip-hop, Latin ballroom, and heels. Andrea began competing at dance competitions at the age of 12 and soon began competing nationally. Andrea has won numerous titles and first-place overalls at competitions throughout her dance career. Placing top ten, first overall, and winning numerous special awards. Alongside Andrea's competition background, Andrea has been a part of some life-changing dance experiences. She was given the opportunity to train at the Joffrey School of Dance in New York City with faculty such as Dexter Carr, Nick Baga, Casey Goshow, and Trix. Soon taking part in a music video with Hip Hop artist Sharaya J. Her biggest dance accomplishment was performing in the 2020 Super Bowl LIV halftime show for Shakira and JLO. Andrea continues her training in dance at various studios in Miami. Her love and passion for dance flourish when she's on the dance floor. She can't wait to see what the future holds for Spotlight Dance Studio and is so grateful and excited to train the next generation of spotlight dancers!
